Kentucky Derby Contest FREE to your Guests and a guest could win $50,000

What does a guest have to do to win? Simply pick the top ten finishers in order in the 2011 Kentucky Derby. If a guest picks every horse in exact order of finish, they win $50,000!

And you will have the pleasant task of announcing

“_____ just won $50,000.”

And there is more. . . The Preakness (May 21) and The Belmont (June 11) complete the Triple Crown of Racing. All 3 races have the $50,000 prize for picking the TopTen finishers* in order.

Sound enticing? Let us know. The cost? $350 per race including the insurance.

TOP TEN Contest Scoring

- If your pick for first finishes first you get 10 points.
- If your pick for second finishes second or better you get 9 points.
- If your pick for third finishes third or better you get 8 points.
- If your pick for fourth finishes fourth or better you get 7 points.
- If your pick for fifth finishes fifth or better you get 6 points.
- If your pick for sixth finishes sixth or better you get 5 points.
- If your pick for seventh finishes seventh or better you get 4 points.
- If your pick for eighth finishes eighth or better you get 3 points.
- If your pick for ninth finishes ninth or better you get 2 points.
- If your pick for tenth finishes tenth or better you get 1 point.
- If a pick finishes lower than what you recorded, you get 0 points.

Assume the possible picks are 11,22,33,44,55,66,77,88,99,01

A player enters their picks in that order from 11 coming in first to 01 coming in tenth and that is the exact order of finish. The player would score a perfect 55 points

If a player enters their picks in exact opposite order from 01 coming in first to 11 coming in tenth, the player would score 15 points because only the picks 66,77,88,99,01 would score points

This scoring schedule allows you to award prizes based on points earned. A player is not penalized for not having a horse finish in the exact place of order. However, if a player's horse finishes lower than picked, that horse would not score points.

And remember. . . a guest scores 55 points (a perfect score) and SportGame pays you $50,000.
